

Aims and Ethos

Aims, Ethos and Atmosphere

Port Regis exists to provide children between the ages of 3 and 13 with an all-round education of the very highest quality. The calibre of the teaching staff and the positive, encouraging approach in the classroom produces children who regard the learning process as engaging and exciting and leads to outstanding results. The range of extra-curricular opportunities is extraordinary, and the dedicated staff and exceptional facilities ensure that every child discovers and develops the talents and interests that lie within. Above all, the School is a wonderfully happy one with children who are lively and charming, relaxed and confident as well as courteous and well-behaved. They are looked after with great care and affection, and their well-being is the prime concern of every member of staff.

(Port Regis Prospectus)

Our Mission Is

- to provide an environment in which each child can fulfil his or her potential
- to encourage each child to gain maximum advantage from a first-class staff and fine facilities
- to enable each child to communicate with confidence both socially and publicly
- to equip each child with a growing awareness of the wisdom of the ancients and the technology of tomorrow
- to inspire each child with an understanding of civilised values, a respect for all creation and a love of humanity.

Port Regis is a relaxed, fear-free home from home, based on Christian principles and established to provide an all-round education. As shown in our mission statement above, we seek to develop the academic, social, spiritual, physical and emotional faculties inherent in every child.

The academic, cultural and sporting achievements of our pupils as well as their personal contentment and well-being are testimony that confidence is high and that our objectives are being met.

The school motto is there to inspire:

"Altiora Peto" - "I seek higher things"

